The harp thou touchest with a trembling hand Shall give thee comfort when the dells are dim, And down the dingles of life s trodden land Floats sad and slow the pensive evening hymn. The cup of kindness, sparkling to the rim, Shall cheer thee onward through thy after-days, Proffered in gentleness and truth by him Who Christian love and tenderness displays: To whom I bid thee, then, inscribe thy simple lays. VII. The echo followed him when heaven was clear, And when the clouds met in the angry sky. It filled the breeze of every new-born year, As one by one they swept before his eye. In spells of song he oft would lyre-bound lie, Until he came the cheerful meed to assign, Bidding the care-shades to their coverts fly; Whilst many stood aloof, with chilling whine, He aided his song-skiff with gales of love benign. VIII. Now when his sun of life is in the west, And length ning shadows lie upon the land, He yields the secret...
